A Correlation: South Carolina Academic Standards and Junior Achievement Middle School Programs

Updated October 2018
Junior Achievement USA®
One Education Way
Colorado Springs, CO 80906
Overview

Junior Achievement programs offer a multidisciplinary approach that connects learning across social studies disciplines, such as economics, geography, history, government, and civics, while incorporating mathematical concepts and reasoning and language arts skills.

In this document, Junior Achievement programs are correlated to the South Carolina academic standards for Social Studies Literacy, English Language Arts and Mathematics, and CATE Financial Literacy standards. This list is not meant to be exhaustive or intended to suggest that a JA program will completely address any given standard, but is designed to show how it can enhance or complement efforts to do so. The flexibility of the programs and supplementary materials allow specific content or skills to be addressed in depth by the teacher and/or business volunteer as needed.

JA Middle Grades Programs

JA Economics for Success® provides practical information about personal finance and the importance of identifying education and career goals based on a student’s skills, interests, and values.

JA Global Marketplace® Blended Model introduces students to the global marketplace and the ways in which countries buy and sell from each other. Through completion of this program, students will gain an understanding of the role of producers and consumers in the interconnected global market.

JA It’s My Business® Blended Model provides middle school students an opportunity to experience the initial steps necessary to start a business. New program content provides an authentic entrepreneurial experience for students, with each session building up to a product-pitch competition.

JA It’s My Future® Blended Model offers middle school students practical information to help prepare them for the working world. Students develop the personal-branding and job-hunting skills needed to earn a job.

Session Three: Want to Trade?

Students examine how trade works, why countries trade with other countries, and evaluate whether a single country could be completely self-sufficient.

Objectives:

The students will:

- Define interdependence and describe examples of multinational trade and its affect on a single product.
- Evaluate the pros and cons of trading with other countries.

- Compare the locations of places, the conditions at places, and the connections between places.
- Explain how the endowment and development of productive resources affects economic decisions and global interactions.
- Explain why trade occurs and how historical patterns of trade have contributed to global interdependence.
- Integrate information from a variety of media sources with print or digital text in an appropriate manner.

Session Four: Why Countries Specialize

Students learn that modern countries cannot provide all of the products and services that their people want and need. Therefore, businesses in different countries specialize by focusing their efforts on specific resources or producing smaller parts of a product. Students will look at examples of specialized global manufacturing, discuss how it affects trade, and consider the trade-offs of interdependence.

Objectives:

The students will be able to:

- Define specialization.
- Analyze examples of international trade to explain why modern countries cannot provide for all of their wants and needs.
- Show how events and decisions in one country have a causal relationship with, and produce an effect on, customers in another country.

- Understand responsible citizenship in relation to the state, national, and international communities.
- Compare the locations of places, the conditions at places, and the connections between places.
- Explain how the endowment and development of productive resources affects economic decisions and global interactions.
- Explain why trade occurs and how historical patterns of trade have contributed to global interdependence.
- Integrate information from a variety of media sources with print or digital text in an appropriate manner.
